Arrival day

Arrival day

You have now arrived and collected your keys. With your keys you received a welcome pack which includes maps, your new mailing address and lots of other useful information to help get you started.

Inventory

Now you have checked in, before you start to unpack take some time to fill out the inventory form and aim to have it completed and returned to our on-site team within 48 hours of arrival.

The inventory lists all the items you should find in your room and shared common areas. This is your opportunity to make note of any damaged or missing items, so it's important you take some time to complete this.

Note: By not completing the inventory, you may be liable for the cost of repairing or replacing any damaged or missing items when you leave.

If you come across any maintenance issues on your arrival, please do not list them on your inventory as these may take a few weeks to process. Instead pop in and see the team on reception, give them a call or send an email:

Communal living and pastoral care

By following these simple codes of conduct you are sure to avoid tension with your flatmates and will also help make your time with us enjoyable.

Respect

Always treat others as you would like to be treated. Be respectful of each other's differences and lifestyles and talk about any problems openly. Be considerate of each other's living space and let your flatmates know if you are having guests over.

If you are having problems, please contact us.

Noise

Please be mindful of those who are trying to sleep and study and try to avoid doing the following:

- Letting doors slam when entering or leaving
- Talking, shouting or laughing loudly, especially in corridors and communal areas
- Loud music
- Any loud noise between during quiet hours (11pm-8am, Sunday to Thursday and 11pm-9am, Friday and Saturday)

Of course we want you to go out and have fun, but remember noise can be really irritating for someone trying to sleep or study.

Food

Food theft can have a damaging effect on relationships within your flat. In the few days following your arrival, agree between yourselves if you will have any communal food items. Remember to ask permission before you borrow anything and check with your flatmates before throwing their food away. Try to avoid buying large quantities of food in one go to make sure everyone has enough storage space.

Looking after yourself

Register with a doctor (GP) as soon as you can. For details of local practices visit www.nhs.uk/service-search/GP/locationsearch/4. For minor illnesses you can visit any local pharmacist. Please ask at reception for details of the nearest hospital. If we can't help, we will know someone who can.

Keep in contact with people you are familiar with, have familiar things around you and either talk to us or look in to University support services if you are struggling.
